Judge High Court Malaya

Who is a good judge? He is one who makes law that bridges the gap between law and society and protects the constitution and its values. He knows and understands society, its problems and its aspirations. The quality of a judge is determined by examining his rulings. In the case of the renowned L.J. Vincent Ng JCA (retired) his body of legal works throughout his judicial career bears more than ample testimony to these qualities. His judgments serve to reflect the comprehensive evaluation which His Lordship brought to bear on each of his cases in the course of adjudicating them.
