

Datuk Liew Vui Keong
Deputy Minister in the Prime Minister's Department

This is a memorable and meaningful project and my profound admiration goes out to our retired judge Mr Justice Dato' Vincent Ng who is held in high esteem by his peers and members of the legal profession. It goes without saying that obvious recognition should be accorded to him and his team who have worked so conscientiously with such dedication and effort. May God continue to shower his blessings to Mr Justice Dato' Vincent Ng and "the LORD will take away from thee all sickness ..." (Deut 7:15).

This is absolutely a 'must read' book to legal minded persons as it takes us through the journey of an icon in law and gives us a wide perspective of how great a legal mind works. I am indeed honoured to be associated with one of the authors of this book, Alex Chang Esq. and I look forward to many more books from him in future.

Making decisions is a daily part of a judge's job. But decisions, by their bare selves, do not define a judge, nor distinguish one judge from another. What can, and do, are the reasoned judgments of a judge.

Justice Vincent Ng has penned many judgments throughout his career. Quite apart from the legal analysis that shines through them, what strikes me most about Justice Vincent Ng's judgments is his clearly discernible and relentless quest to do justice between the parties that came before him in each and every case.
